National Geographic Trails Illustrated - Harriman - Bear Mtn - Sterling Forest State Parks - NY

Customer Reviews

Pros:-Nice water proof paper-Shows most trails with 90% accuracy-Shows some point of interest along the way-Has the entire Harriman State Park in one map-More aesthetically pleasing than the NY-NJ trail conference map
Cons:-Missing many point of interests, including Shelters and Parking.-Pretty big to use while hiking due to having the entire park on one map (as apposed to the NY-NJ trail conference map)-The trails are not as up to date as the NY-NJ trail conference map
All in all I think the NY-NJ trail conference map is a better choice.P.S. Just for the fun I am attaching a picture of my very own 400 lb. Teddy Bear I encountered on the Nurian trail, just east of the junction with the Stahahe trail. Good thing I had my bear spray with me...

The map was extremely informative. It showed where the public cabins are, swimming areas, all trails, basically everything you need. Much better than the maps sold locally, they only show popular trails and their campgrounds.

Nice maps, mileage for trails is printed for each section of trail. the only down side might be the size and weight of these maps. If you are an ultra light backpacker there are lighter alternatives.

Excellent map for planning but not super detailed for on the ground navigation. It is big and this would be another reason not to carry it on a hike.

Get the appalachian trail map, this one is missing trails

very good

it shows the distance of the hike but everyone on the hike agreed that it's best to get a map produced by the park where one can see the hikes very clearly marked.
