Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

This is a nice map that has a lot of information on it. Being a hiker, I love the contour lines. However, I do wish there were hiking trails on it. Switzerland has the best rail transport in the world, and I do feel this map does not portray the railways well enough.

This is a nice map, very well made. I've owned several of these for cities we've visited and I'm always pleased.

Have always liked National Geographic maps and this one was used well by us during our 6 days in Switzerland.

This map should assist us when we visit Switzerland in October.

Great map, had all the info we needed for a week long road trip through the alps. I like that the paper has a plasticized feel to it, helps with longevity. I think you could probably still write on it, though those prolific map scribblers out there maybe should pick a more porous map.

This is a good help to have detail map thank you

As usual, National Geographic Maps cannot be better.

Excellent map with lots of nice detail, so you can see where you're going and where you've been.
