Customer Reviews

"This is an essential addition to my reference books on the procedural aspects of international trade. It provides a comprehensive framework for the beginner, while covering technical specifics that can assist the practitioner. Key considerations are presented and summarized, with case studies that move the reader well beyond the surface level of detail across key elements of import and export trade. A must read!" - Dr. Ralph F. Jagodka, Mt. San Antonio College, USA "This new edition of Export-Import Theory expands upon the already valuable earlier ones, with updated material that keeps pace with the rapidly-changing scene. It's not just a cookbook of international trade jargon, but an informed discussion of the ins and outs of international trade. Dr. Seyoum makes important topics such as terms of trade and financing clear and interesting. He does not gloss over the complexities of international trade, and presents enough detail for students to really see the operational issues and choices clearly, but without the usual overly-wordy explanations. He allows the reader to understand the issues, rather than just the mechanics, and provides the documentation for interested readers to go farther. I especially like the cases, and the detailed treatment of Incoterms. This edition improves upon what's already the best academic textbook available on exporting and importing." - Bruce Hartman, PhD, University of St. Francis, USA "Professor Seyoum continues to offer significant contributions to the field of international trade with this latest edition of Export-Import Theory. The book has been thoroughly updated, and includes interesting and useful summaries, review questions and short, helpful end-of-chapter cases. Over the years, my students at both graduate and undergraduate levels have enjoyed the textbook just as much as I have. This reference is a must-have for anybody who wants to understand or plans to enter the export-import field." - Ghiyath Nakshbendi, PhD, American University, USA

Belay Seyoum is Professor of International Business Studies at Nova Southeastern University, USA. He has published two books, as well as numerous articles in the area of international trade in several prestigious academic journals, such as the International Business Review, Journal of World Trade, the International Trade Journal, the Journal of World Business, and the Journal of Global Business.

How do you give a zero star review? I have the author as my teacher and she is clearly useless giving arbitrary grades without reason. But that isn't the point of this review - I agree with a previous reviewer who stated:"The book is nothing more than copy and paste from other sources. You have a citation every paragraph. It seems to me the author has no clue about teaching, or the subject."I'm not sure that this author even knows anything about the subject but knows how to steal other people's comments legally through citations. Very poorly written with incomplete thoughts and ideas. The writing is disjointed and doesn't have a cohesive presentation of ideas.

It gives me the information I need, but there are no page numbers so I can't cite the book pages! I can't follow along in class because the professor gives page numbers and this ebook doesn't have them! Change it, please! It's too late for me, but save someone else the aggravation...

Got me through my class in college.

Very useful book. I used it in the class a lot and at work

It is a good book for international trade. The digital version is an excellent alternative.

I would give less than one star. Unfortunately, is not possible. To make matters worse, I have the author as my teacher. The book is nothing more than copy and paste from other sources. You have a citation every paragraph. It seems to me the author has no clue about teaching, or the subject. This author/teacher is a joke. I have 3.9 GPA in my MBA program if that tells you something.

Exactly what i purchased and in good condition!! Would definitely recommend.

It is a great book tons of information helps a lot in import export class
