Did you know that octopi are as smart as dogs? Or that Viperfish have 350 lights in their mouths? You'll find these and more interesting facts in SEA MONSTERS, the companion research guide to DARK DAY IN THE DEEP SEA. Discover old sea monster legends, info on squids, octopi, and other animals in the abyss. Also learn about prehistoric sea monsters, and exploration of the deep sea. I've met the Scientific Consultant for this book, Dr. Sonke Johnsen, he said that "The world will need thousands of new Marine Biologists, because we've only just begun to explore the mysteries of the deep sea." I'd highly recommend this book to all fans of the MAGIC TREE HOUSE series, especially kids ages 7-12, who are interested in Deep Sea animals. Fiat Lux!-Cybill

My second grade son loves all of these books!

My 8 yr old daughter doesn't like fiction but these are great for her age and interesting with pictures in the chapter.

This a great book with loads of information for young children presented in a fun way. I would recommend it to any teacher.

Seeing sea creatures in a book instead of viewing them on television was eye opening for them.

my granddaughter is an avid reader and has enjoyed these books tremendously.

This book is by no means an encyclopedia, but has enough photos and variety (discussions of prehistoric and mythical sea creatures, in addition to contemporary sea creatures and explorers/scientists) to hold an eight-year old boy's attention.

Both my grandsons (ages 6 & 8) love all the Magic Tree house books and the Fact Finder research guide books.They like to read them before going to sleep each night.Good books and good prices.
