Freya Stark In Southern Arabia

Synopsis

The magnificent canyons of Wadi Hadhramaut inspired Freya Stark to produce some of her best photographs. Dame Freya's particular empathy with local people resulted in charming pictures of people she worked or travelled with, and the homes and costumes of the period.

Customer Reviews

In 1934 Stark set out to explore the Incense Road in Arabia, travelling the country twice during the 1930s and returning during the second world war. Her photos of traditional Arabian regions are striking, providing unusual and strong documentation of the peoples in the area. Recommended for any strong Middle Eastern collection or library display. -- Midwest Book Review
