Mad Libs is the world-famous word game that has been delighting fans of all ages since its invention in the 1950s by Roger Price and Leonard Stern. Fill in the blanks of a Mad Libs with any words you choose, and become the author of your own story!

My 8 yr old LOVES Mad Libs and they have become part of family game night. I never played these as a child (but I think I'm the only person who hasn't) so I really like playing and these help with adjectives and grammar and spelling for kids as well. This dog edition was a must have since my daughter's favorite dog breed are pugs (though I don't know why).. Definitely worth the $3.00 and I will keep buying them from since Prime is my favorite way to buy.

I purchased a couple of these for my nieces for Christmas and they were a huge hit. I purchased this one, "Dog Ate My Mad Libs" Dog Ate My Mad Libs, since our niece just got a new puppy last year. I also purchased "Sleepover Party Mad Libs" Sleepover Party Mad Libs for my other niece. Honestly, you can't go wrong with any of them. Even my daughter, who is married with kids of her own now, still LOVES to do these, so she was excited to see the nieces each got one. These are even a great reminder for me, refreshing my knowledge of the parts of speech, so I am better able to help the kids with their homework, if necessary. These were a much loved gift (they started working in them right away) and I will certainly purchase more Mad Libs for gifts in the future. They're ALWAYS a huge hit!! Very happy with this!

Who doesn't love Mad-Libs!? These are great for road trips, or just anytime we need a really good laugh! Our kids (ages 9, 7, and 4) LOVE these Mad-Libs, and they have learned their parts of speech so quickly! Of course, they always manage to fill the stories with plenty of potty words (much to our dismay)! Of course, I guess we can't complain when they know that poop can be either a noun or a verb depending on the context! :-/ Or, can we??? ;-)

As a fifth grade teacher, I'm always trying to embed mini lessons into my school day. I love that these are quick and easy and allow for kids who finish early to get some exposure to grammar. They always make the kids laugh and learn at the same time. Love these mad libs.

All of these mad libs are dog related which is what is expected. This one was a little note pad. The "best of mad libs" are thicker books that have better flows when filled out.

We purchased this for our 10-year old's birthday. All of the stories are pertaining to dogs. You have to fill in the blanks with the specified requests for verbs, adverbs, adjectives, nouns, etc. She had a blast asking us for words, then reading us the story with our words inserted. It kept her entertained on a long road trip. I would definitely recommend this for great entertainment - is well worth it with the laughs it produced!

This cracks me up! If you want something fun to do with your school age child on a rainy day or on a car ride, this would be it! Some of the conversations that stem from these are hilarious and the kids have fun being silly. I usually break these out at doctors offices and other stressful places and it works like a charm!

What can I say, they're Mad Libs, and are always a lot of fun. Will probably have the whole collection as gift occasions occur!
