Synopsis

The plane can't land. It can't turn back. And the fuel's running out. Reaching the end of a four hour flight, the crew of Phoenix Flight 375 find themselves facing an impossible dilemma: terrible weather, a natural disaster and a silent killer force them to decide not how to live, but how they might have to die. Half of the passengers want to survive. The others want a quick and painless end. They have one hour of fuel remaining, and then their choices will be over. At thirty-seven thousand feet and five hundred miles per hour, you're not in control of anything. On this flight, neither are the pilots...

REVIEW Praise for Dean Crawford: "The fossilized remains of a 7,000-year-old creature dug from the sands of the Negev Desert in Israel become the bones of contention in Dean Crawford's fast-paced debut thriller... The book neatly threads together a wild variety of plotlines." - Wall Street Journal | cleverly introduced premise | assured pacing and plotting | Publishers Weekly | The action is frenetic, in the vein of Matthew Reilly's Scarecrow series. Crawford is an able storyteller who smoothly orchestrates the plot's twists and turns | Kirkus Reviews | brilliant high-concept, high-octane thriller | The Guardian "A fast-paced and entertaining yarn." - Melbourne Age "Partly mythical read, part thriller this pacy tale is a page turner guaranteed to keep you up late." - The Sun "Get the cameras rolling" "Indiana Jones meets Alien. What a combination of mystery, suspense, and unspeakable horror. I loved it!" - R.L. Stine "This is an amazingly good, intelligently told novel by an exciting new British author." - Eurocrime "Earth-shattering intrigue, hyperdrive action and a desperate race to save humanity, cranked up to the max with scarily realistic science and apocalyptic religion thrown in for good measure . . . a major new talent has hit the mystery thriller scene!" - Scott Mariani

ABOUT THE AUTHOR Dean Crawford began writing after his dream of becoming a fighter pilot in the Royal Air Force was curtailed when he failed their stringent sight tests. His Ethan Warner series of high-concept novels have regularly featured on the Sunday Times paperback bestseller list and have sold all over the world. A full-time author, he lives with his partner and daughter in Surrey.

Customer Reviews

This book will keep u on your toes. A fast read for anyone. I enjoyed the characters and the difficulties the characters had to endure. My first book by this author and I am sure I will read more.

I have an urge to travel to Iceland now. Great use of twist and turns to keep the reader thinking about all the reasons not to travel to Iceland.

I like disaster books because they are based on real science. .It is hard to put this one down. It Haas everything.

I really liked this book as it kept my attention from the first page. I will recommend it my friends.

A little slow to start but gets to a very fast pace at the end and keeps you wanting to read on.....

Nail biting realism and drama start from page 1and churn at 39000ft in this engaging novel with great characters and one challenge after the other for our hero. This is a wild ride and as a former flight attendant, bursting with technical detail and sheer determination on the part of our hero pilots. Fabulous read!!!

Exciting! Fast paced. A nail biter. Definitely kept the tense pace up from start to finish. Some situations seemed a little far fetched but I know people in the airline business and they say not so much. One of those books you can't put down.

This was an ok book, a lot different from otjet disasters books I have read. There was too many technical jargon, and not a lot of anything else. I guess if I was a plane fanatic I would have liked it more than I did. I just kept reading it to find out if they crash or not.
