Customer Reviews

Wanted a cookbook with low carb recipes, but this book was thin and really did not contain much. Better to spend your money on a different option in my opinion

FINALLY! A low carb cookbook that is easy to understand and clearly explains the differences between sweeteners and their conversions. It's great to see that we can easily make healthy choices to benefit the whole family.

This one is even better than the first. I've never seen a cookbook with so much helpful info as well as healthy recipes.

I bought this for a friend who was just starting her low carb journey and she loved it.

Great recipes that even my picky eater son enjoys. I think it will be easier to follow these than some others I have tried.

I have been a long-time fan of Jennifer Eloff's and own most of her wonderful cookbooks. This particular book is excerpted from a series called Low Carbing Among Friends - that series being a compilation of many popular low carb cooks from various websites and publications. The difference with this version is that it is compiled mostly of Jennifer's recipes with some by George Stella as well. I find the foreword by George invaluable - in addition to his own story, he also offers "hints and tips" and a substitution chart for many of the sweeteners currently available to low carbers and those who follow a sugar-free and/or gluten-free lifestyle, brands and places to buy them, etc. REALLY nice to turn to his conversion tables when you're wondering how much of a particular sweetener equals a cup of sugar! And, the recipes for Jen's two bake mixes are worth the price of admission here for her book! The thing I appreciate most about Jen's recipes is that they generally use ingredients which are easy to source locally, and she has tried and tested these recipes on her own friends and family; because I've used her recipes for so long, I can pretty much rest assured that these will suit the tastes of my own family! I love that I can now download these books to my Kindle then take it to the kitchen and use it as a recipe book there. Great job, Jennifer!

I low carb because of diabetes. But for whatever reason you low carb, this series of cookbooks are the best on the market. Oh sure, there are some but Jennifer Eloff knows low carb. Let me state it more clearly "Jennifer Eloff is an expert at low carb". Have you been to her blog. Not only does Jennifer give you recipes in this book but she explains different ingredients. So for a newbie low carber this is a great resource. Low carb can be daunting at first and isn't terribly hard for a meal. But do you want desserts? Do you want low carb breads that won't spike your blood sugar? Do you want a flour mix that you can use for cakes? Well look no further.....a terrific series of books.

Thks Jenn.

I have been low carb for 3 years. I usually buy George Stella's cookbooks because his recipes you can enjoy and live with. George Stella recommends Jennifer Eloff so I know this has got to be good. Looking forward to trying more recipes from Jennifer and of course George.
